Code of Conduct

Respectful collaboration

This fictional code asks everyone to communicate respectfully, make room for different viewpoints, and address disagreements about work without personal attacks. Give feedback privately when possible and focus on specific actions and their effect on the work.

Code of Conduct

Raising a concern

If you see conduct that may conflict with this code, raise the concern with a team lead or the fictional people support desk. Share relevant facts and dates, and avoid circulating sensitive details more widely than needed to address the concern.
