Leave Policy

Purpose and request process

This fictional policy explains how team members request planned time away. Submit a request to the scheduling desk at least five working days before the first day away when practical. The desk records the request and replies with an approval or a request for clarification.

Unexpected absence and return

For an unexpected absence, notify the scheduling desk as soon as reasonably possible using the usual team contact channel. Share only the expected availability date; medical details are not required. On return, check the team calendar and coordinate any handoff with a colleague.
